

Household Inventory

This household inventory will be a significant help to you and your insurance adjuster when establishing values in case of a claim. Replacement cost is the cost today of replacing the lost or damaged property with a brand new item. Actual or Cash Value is the cost today less depreciation for use and age. Most homeowners policies pay claims on a replacement cost basis. Additionally, most policies also have limits on coverage for jewellery, furs, cash, securities, collections (stamps, coins, etc), and bicycles under some circumstances. You should discuss the your own situation with your insurance broker to ensure you don't require additional coverage.

Credit Cards

If you lose a credit card, you should report it to the issuing company without delay. We suggest you make a list of all the credit cards your family has and the name and address of the company to notify. Don't start hunting for this information after your credit cards have been lost or stolen.
